Too hard to move a couch? Rent it

Startups see growing market in furniture rentals

By Joseph Pisani
ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK – Zachariah Mohammed's living room is filled with stuff he doesn't own.

He pays $200 a month for the sofa, side table, bar cart, dining table and four chairs in his living room. It's worth it, the 27-year-old New Yorker says. If he needs to move, which he's done twice in the last year, he won't need to lug a sofa across the city or worry if it will fit in a new place. The furniture-rental startup, Feather, will swap items for something else.

"We don't want to be stuck with a giant couch," says Mohammed, a social media manager at a software company, who lives with his partner and their dog.

Feather, Fernish and other companies aim to rent furniture to millennials who don't want to commit to big purchases or move heavy furniture and are willing to pay for the convenience. It's part of a wave of rental culture that includes Rent the Runway, focused on women's designer clothing, and even Netflix and Spotify, which let you stream from a huge catalog rather than buy individual TV show episodes, movies or songs.

"They're moving a lot. They're changing jobs a lot," says Thomas Robertson, a marketing professor at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, describing the types of people who would use the services. "Why would you want to be saddled with furniture?"

The furniture-rental companies target high-income city dwellers who want a $1,100 orange love seat ($46 a month) or $980 leather bench ($41 a month) – but only temporarily. The furniture itself is a step up from Ikea.

These startups are in just a handful of coastal cities, with few users, but seek to grow. They offer furniture from Crate & Barrel, West Elm and smaller brands.

Others are renting out home goods, too. Rent the Runway recently added West Elm pillows and quilts. Ikea is testing a rental service in several countries outside the U.S., including Switzerland and Belgium.

Renting may make sense for a generation that sees "life as transient," says Hana Ben-Shabat, founder of Gen Z Planet, a research firm that focuses on the generation born between the late 1990s and 2016.

Young people get married and buy homes later than they used to, and move more than older people do. Still, millennials are moving less than previous generations did at their age, and Americans overall are moving less.

Moving her furniture from New York to Los Angeles would have cost Clarissa Wright $3,000. Instead, she gave away most of what she owned, traveled in Europe for two months and then rented a couch, bed, mattress, bar stools and other furniture in her new place, for $255 a month. Feather delivered and assembled everything in one day.

Wright, a 28-year-old marketing consulting for fashion and beauty brands, says she can switch out the furniture, add more stuff, move to a new apartment or city. But right now, she doesn't know what the future holds.

"I don't think too far ahead," she says.

Notice and Opportunity to Comment
STATE HIGHWAY (SH) 36 – SECTION 4(f) PROPERTY
From FM 522 to North of SH 332
CSJ: 0188-04-025
Brazoria County, Texas

The Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) proposes to widen State Highway (SH) 36 from a two-lane, undivided roadway to a four-lane, divided roadway from Farm-to-Market (FM) 2218 to FM 1495. The proposed improvements would require additional right-of-way (ROW) along the corridor. When this project was originally proposed and received environmental approval in 2008 properties in Construction Segment 12 (CSJ 0188-04-025) were privately owned. Since that time, the United States Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) has acquired these parcels and subsequently incorporated them into the San Bernard National Wildlife Refuge (SBNWR). The original proposal would have required approximately 19 acres of ROW from the SBNWR. TxDOT Project Staff has met with representatives from the SBNWR to discuss the proposed project and the impacts to the Refuge. TxDOT has agreed to relocate one detention pond and remove the relocation of County Road 507 from the proposal, therefore reducing the needed ROW to approximately 13 acres. Additionally, TxDOT will incorporate wildlife exclusion fencing along the ROW and install 3 wildlife crossings within the boundaries of the SBNWR.

The parcels on which the use will take place have significance under the requirements of CFR 774.3(b). In order to qualify for a Section 4(f) De Minimis, it must be established that the project activities will not adversely affect the activities, features, or attributes that make the property eligible for Section 4(f) protection. The function of the SBNWR will not be impaired and its function will not cease. Nor will the project impair the function of the property as a whole. The proposed acquisition of property would have no adverse effect. The SBNWR would still possess its significance after the project is complete; therefore, TxDOT determined that the proposed project activities meet the requirements of a de minimis finding under Section 4(f).

Pursuant to Texas Administrative Code, Title 43, §2.104 this notice is affording an opportunity to comment as part of the environmental review process for this project.

Although additional ROW is required, no residential or non-residential structures would be displaced. Information concerning services and benefits available to affected property owners and information about the tentative schedule for ROW acquisition may be obtained from the district office at the address listed below.

Any environmental documentation or studies, maps showing the project location and design, tentative construction schedules, and other information regarding the project are on file and available for review by appointment, Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. at TxDOT Houston District Office, 7600 Washington Avenue, Houston, Texas 77007. Additionally, responses to comments received will similarly be on file and available for review once they have been prepared.

You may submit comments regarding the proposed Section 4(f) de minimis determination. Comments must be received in writing on or before Thursday, February 6, 2020. Comments may be mailed to the TxDOT Houston District Office, Attention: Director of Project Development, P.O. Box 1386, Houston Texas 77251-1386 or emailed to the following email address: terri.dedhia@txdot.gov.

If you have any questions regarding the proposed project, please contact Terri Dedhia at 713-802-5247 or terri.leeson@txdot.gov.

The environmental review, consultation, and other actions required by applicable Federal environmental laws for this project are being, or have been, carried-out by TxDOT pursuant to 23 U.S.C. 327 and a Memorandum of Understanding dated December 9, 2019, and executed by FHWA and TxDOT.
