REPORT OF DAMAGED GOODS

READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY:

1. Examine the contents of ALL shipping cases. It is your right and obligation to inspect incoming shipments for damages and/or obvious shortages. Even though the bill of lading only shows one piece, please make sure all components are received (PTO shaft, tires, etc.). If you do not think all items have been received, please note shortages on the bill of lading.

If you have any questions as to what you should have received, please check the packing list or call your local Lely USA, Inc. office BEFORE you sign the bill of lading.

If there is a possible there is damage caused by the freight company, be sure to indicate on the freight bill that there are damages. If you are not sure if the trucking company caused the damage, please call our Service Department so a determination can be made as to how to handle the problem BEFORE you sign the freight bill. You have a right to refuse the shipment if it is badly damaged.

2. Get a claim form from the trucking company. Attach the claim form to the signed copy of the freight bill noting shortages or damages together with a copy of your invoice. Be sure to file your claim promptly.
3. Be sure to keep all damaged goods subject to inspection by the trucking company. If you dispose of the items, your claim may not be paid.
4. When Lely takes receipt from the transportation company certifying that the shipment was delivered to them in good order, responsibility is transferred to them.
5. We accept no responsibility for goods damaged in transit. Claims for loss or damage SHOULD NOT be deducted from your invoice payment while awaiting settlement of such claims.
